

FAST FACTS

A message for health care providers

Clinical Education Initiative (CEI)

The NYSDOH AIDS Institute Clinical Education Initiative (CEI) is designed to enhance the capacity of NY's diverse health care workforce to deliver clinical services to improve health outcomes related to HIV, hepatitis C (HCV), and STDs. CEI provide a wide array of clinical education trainings, resources, & tools to medical providers at no cost!

The CEI Line (866-637-2342)

- Connects NYS medical providers to highly knowledgeable specialists regarding HIV, HCV, STDs, PEP, & PrEP. This toll-free number is a resource for NYS medical providers only and is not available to the general public.

Training and Conferences

- CEI provide free trainings on HIV, HCV, and STD topics for clinicians (e.g. physicians, physician assistants, nurses, nurse practitioners, dentists, & pharmacists) at organizations throughout NYS. Courses are offered either in-person or via webinar. Free CME and CNE credits are provided. To view a complete list of trainings, go to www.ceitraining.org.
- CEI also host several regional conferences throughout the year that are open to clinicians. To learn about upcoming conferences, live webinars, or view archived webinars for CME and CNE credits, visit www.ceitraining.org.

Group Clinical Case Review

- Group clinical case reviews allow for clinical teams to discuss patient cases with an experienced clinician. Clinical experts are available by telephone, webinar, or in person. This resource is an interactive learning opportunity and can be tailored to your health organization's unique needs.
 - For more information regarding HIV or HCV case reviews, please contact Rob Walsh at rwalsh@chpnet.org.
 - For more information regarding STD case reviews, please contact Patricia Coury-Doniger at PCoury-Doniger@monroecounty.gov.

HIV, HCV, and STD Intensive Preceptorship Programs

- This clinical education program provides an intensive experience for practicing clinicians (e.g. physicians, physician assistants, nurses, nurse practitioners) in NYS. Through a combination of didactic sessions and experiential training, clinicians are able to enhance their HIV, HCV, or STD prevention, treatment, care knowledge and competence to better serve their patients.
 - For more information regarding the HIV and HCV preceptorship programs, please contact Naomi Harris at naoharris@chpnet.org.
 - For more information regarding the STD preceptorship program, please contact Patricia Coury-Doniger at PCoury-Doniger@monroecounty.gov.

Technical Assistance

Experienced clinicians are available to assist your agency with creating, reviewing, and discussing Policies and Procedures regarding HIV, HCV, and/or STD.

- For assistance regarding HIV, HCV, PEP, or PrEP, please contact Rob Walsh at rwalsh@chpnet.org.
- For assistance regarding STDs, please contact Patricia Coury-Doniger at PCoury-Doniger@monroecounty.gov.

Clinical Tools: PrEP, PEP, and HCV Testing Cards

These convenient cards provide clinically relevant information. Please note these cards are intended for NY clinicians such as physicians, physician assistants, nurses, nurse practitioners, dentists, and pharmacists.

- To view and order clinical cards, please visit <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/CEIClinicalCards>.