ECDOH announces the appointment of Dr. Mark LeVaughn as Deputy Chief Medical

The Erie County Department of Health (ECDOH) has appointment of Dr. Mark LeVaughn as Deputy Chief Medical Examiner. Dr. LeVaughn is originally from Steubenville, Ohio and received his medical degree from The University of Tennessee College of Medicine in Memphis. He completed his pathology residency at West Virginia University Health Science Center followed by a fellowship in forensic pathology at the State Medical Examiners Office at the University of Tennessee Division of Forensic Sciences in Memphis. He is Board certified in both anatomic and forensic pathology and is a member of the National Association of Medical Examiners. Dr LeVaughn served as the Western Kentucky Regional Medical Examiner for the Kentucky State Medical Examiners Office for 13 years and as the regional medical examiner for numerous county coroners in southern Illinois and southern Indiana for the past 6 years. He served as the medical chairman for the Kentucky Child Abuse Task Force, has presented numerous lectures and co-authored several publications.

Dr LeVaughn joins three other forensic pathologists at the ECDOH Medical Examiner's Office; Dr. James Woytash, Chief Medical Examiner, Dr. Dianne Vertes, Deputy Chief Medical Examiner and Dr. Jonrika Malone, Associate Chief Medical Examiner. The Erie County Medical Examiner's office is located on the campus of the Erie County Medical Center (ECMC).
