Chair Mills,

I write to respectfully request that this honorable body acquires access to LexisNexis, a computer assisted legal research tool that allows its users to effectively and quickly sort through an expansive archive.

LexisNexis organizes full text articles from a variety of news sources, case laws and statutes into a reliable and simple database. Access to this information will empower the legislators and staff to produce higher quality legislation.

As with my request for WiFi in our legislative offices, my goal is to improve the effectiveness of individual legislators as well as the body as a whole.

Best Regards,
