WHO WILL FOLLOW THIS NOTICE

This Notice describes the practices of Erie County departments and agencies that have been designated as "health care components" for the purpose of Health Information Portability and Affordability Act (HIPAA). These departments and agencies must follow the terms of this Notice. In addition, your information may be shared with different departments of Erie County as permitted by the HIPAA Privacy Rule.

OUR PLEDGE REGARDING MEDICAL INFORMATION

We understand that medical information about you and your health is personal. We are committed to protecting medical information about you. We create a record of the care and services you receive at Erie County. We need this record to provide you with quality care and to comply with certain legal requirements.

This Notice will tell you about the ways in which we may use and disclose medical information about you. We also describe your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of medical information.

We are required by law to protect the privacy of medical information about you that identifies you, and to notify you if your medical information is used or disclosed in a way that is not consistent with this Notice. We are also required to give you this Notice, explaining our legal duties and your rights concerning your health information. We must follow the privacy practices and the terms of this Notice while it is in effect.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

The following categories describe different ways that we use and disclose medical information. We are permitted to use and disclose information that falls within the categories described below without your permission. Erie County will first obtain your permission before using or disclosing your information for other purposes.

- For Treatment. We may use medical information about you to provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose medical information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students, or other Erie County personnel who are involved in taking care of you. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may need to know if you have diabetes because diabetes may slow the healing process. Different departments of Erie County may share medical information about you in order to coordinate the care and services you need. We also may disclose medical information about you to people outside Erie County who may be involved in your medical care.
- For Payment. We may use and disclose medical information about you so that the treatment and services you receive may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company or a third party. For example, we may need to give your health plan information about services you received so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the services. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment.
- For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose medical information about you for health care operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to ensure that clients receive quality care and services. For example, we may use medical information to review treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also combine medical information about many clients to decide what additional services we should offer, what services are not needed, and whether certain new treatments are effective. We may also disclose information to doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students, and other Erie County staff for review and learning purposes.
- Persons Involved in Your Care. We may use or disclose health information to notify, or assist others in notifying a family member, your representative or other person responsible for your care of your location, your general condition, or death. If you are present, we will provide you with an opportunity to object to such disclosures of your health information prior to use or disclosure of that information. In the event that you become incapacitated or have a medical emergency, we will disclose your health information based on our professional judgment that such disclosure is directly relevant to that person's involvement in your health.

- Treatment Alternatives. We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you.
- Health-Related Benefits and Services. We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about health-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you.
- Research. Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose medical information about you for research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of all patients who received one medication to those who received another, for the same condition. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process. This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of medical information, trying to balance the research needs with patients' need for privacy of their medical information. Before we use or disclose medical information for research, the project will have been approved through this research approval process.
- As Required By Law. We may use or disclose medical information about you when required to do so by federal, state or local law.
- To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety. We may use and disclose medical information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure, however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.
